

ENGLISH

Loki does not want to bath

This book belongs to:

Loki does not want to bath

Title: Loki does not want to bath

Author: Vanessa Ukca

Illustrations: Shiya Karuseb

Layout and design: John Meinert Printing

Publisher: Development Workshop Namibia

20 Nachtigal Street

P O Box 40723, Ausspannpaltz

Windhoek, Namibia

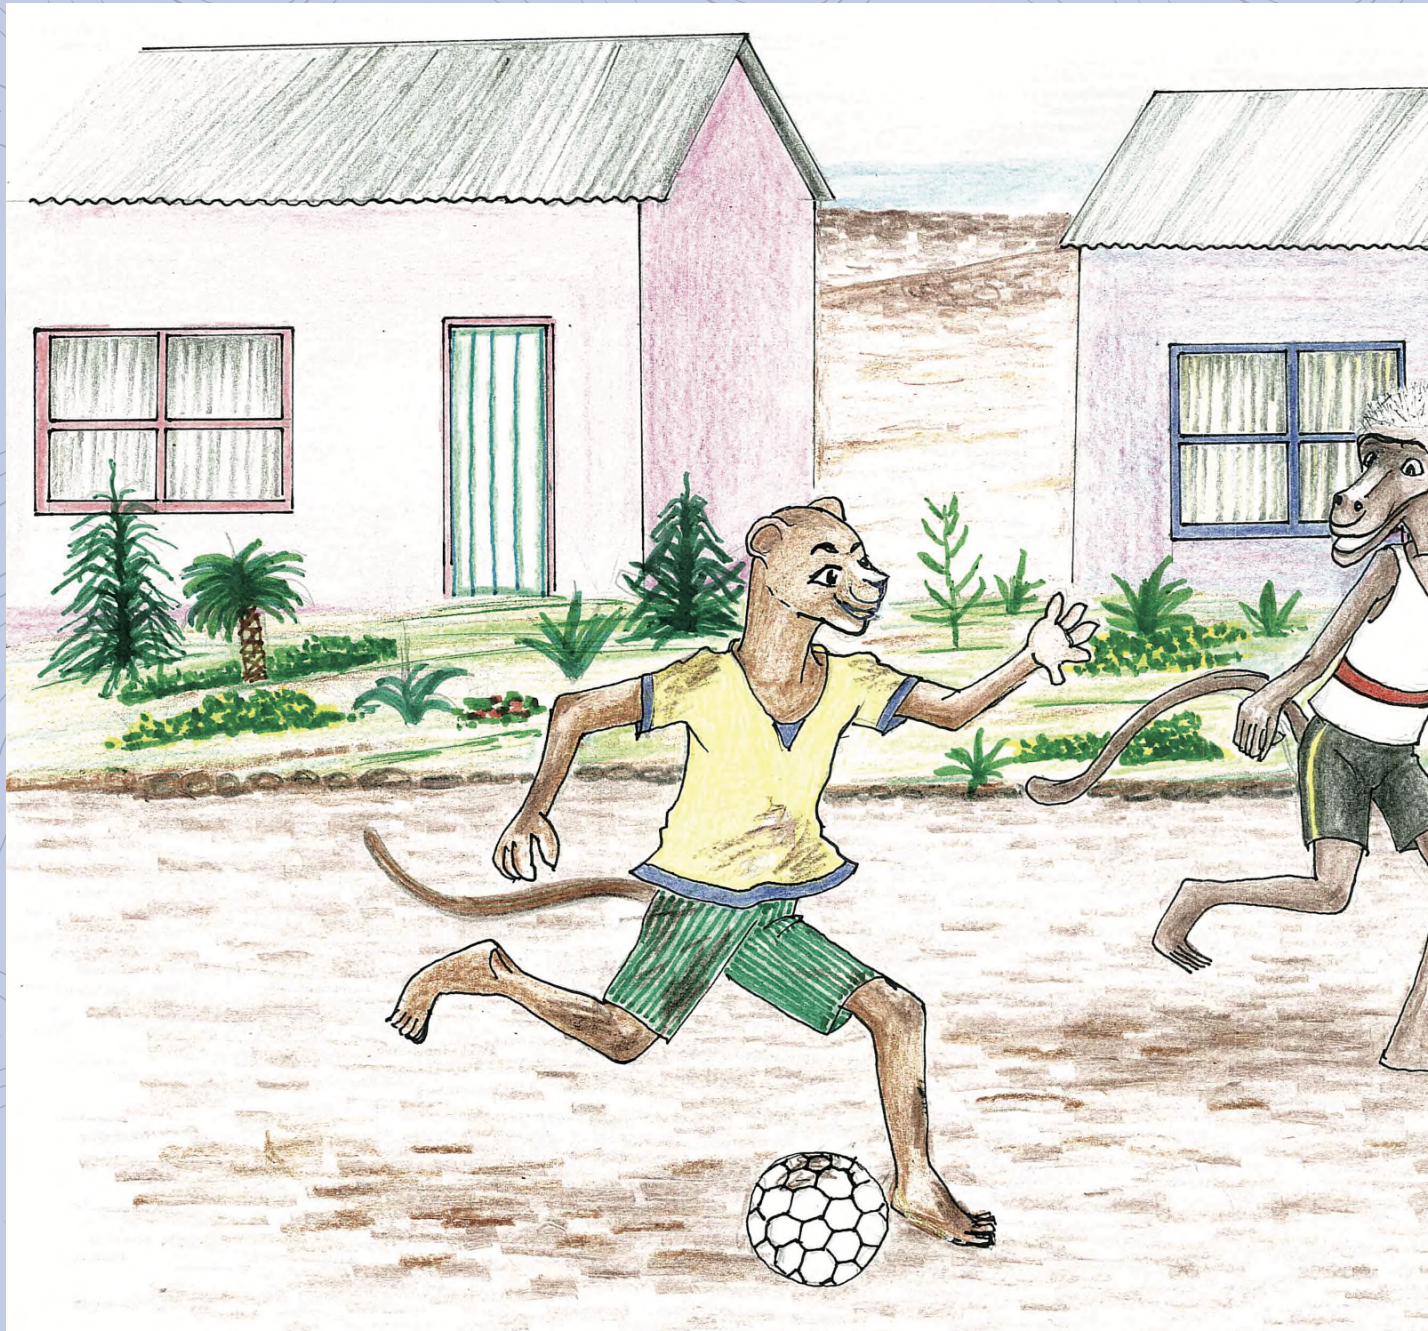

Printed by: John Meinert Printing

ISBN: 978-99945-58-40-7

Copyright: All rights reserved by Development Workshop Namibia. School children and teachers can make copies and use this book in schools. This book and /or its content may not be reproduced or copied for commercial purposes.

The production and printing of this publication is supported by:

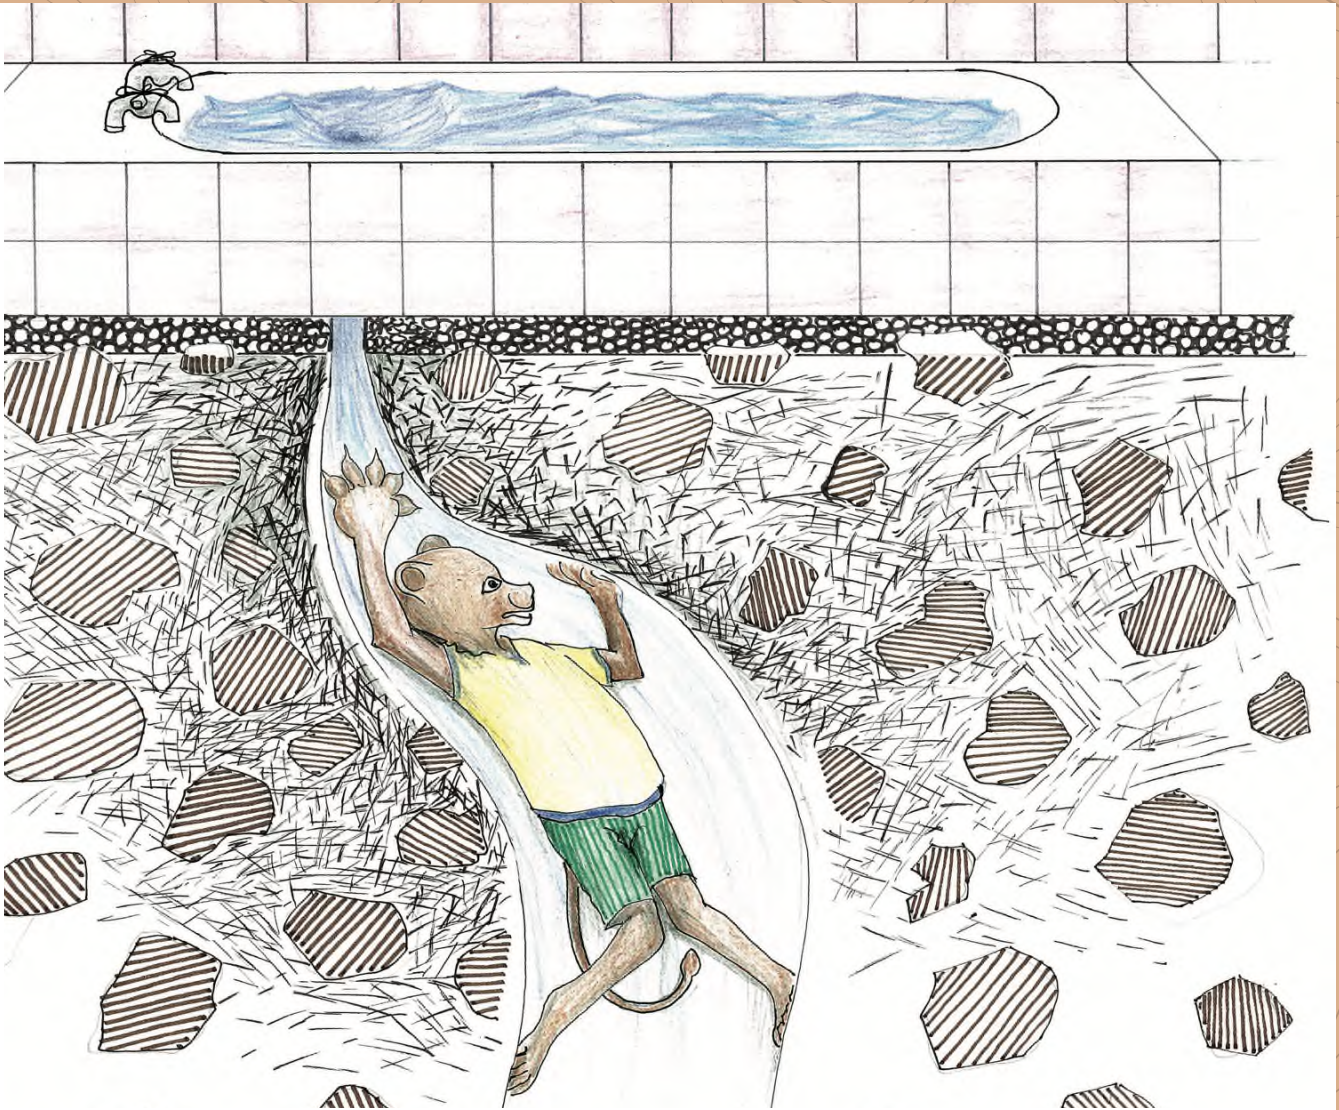

Loki likes to play outside with his friends.

After playing Loki comes home dirty. His mother Lily wants Loki to bath.

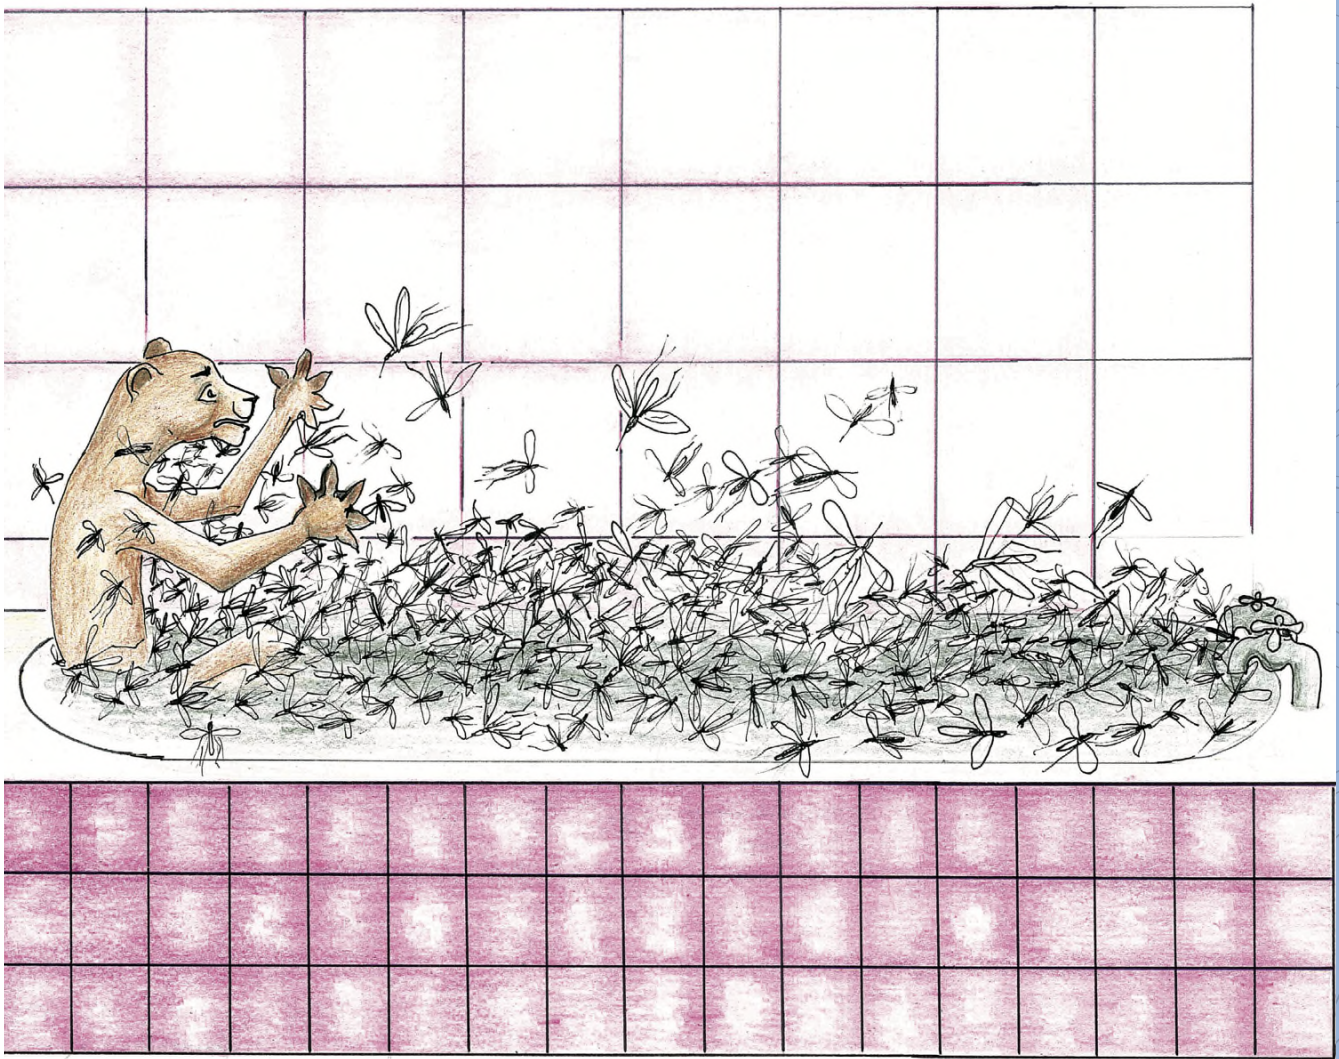

Loki yawns and says: “Mom, I am very tired. I will bath tomorrow morning.”

Loki dreams of taking a bath. While he is in the bathtub, the plug comes out. As the water drains, it pulls Loki down the pipe!

The next day Loki goes to school without bathing. After school Loki goes home and helps his mother to cook. “Oh no, Loki, you spilled some food on yourself!” His mother tries to wipe it off, but he is still dirty. After eating Mother Lily says: “Let’s go bath Loki”. “No Mom, not now please. I am so full, I cannot bath now.”

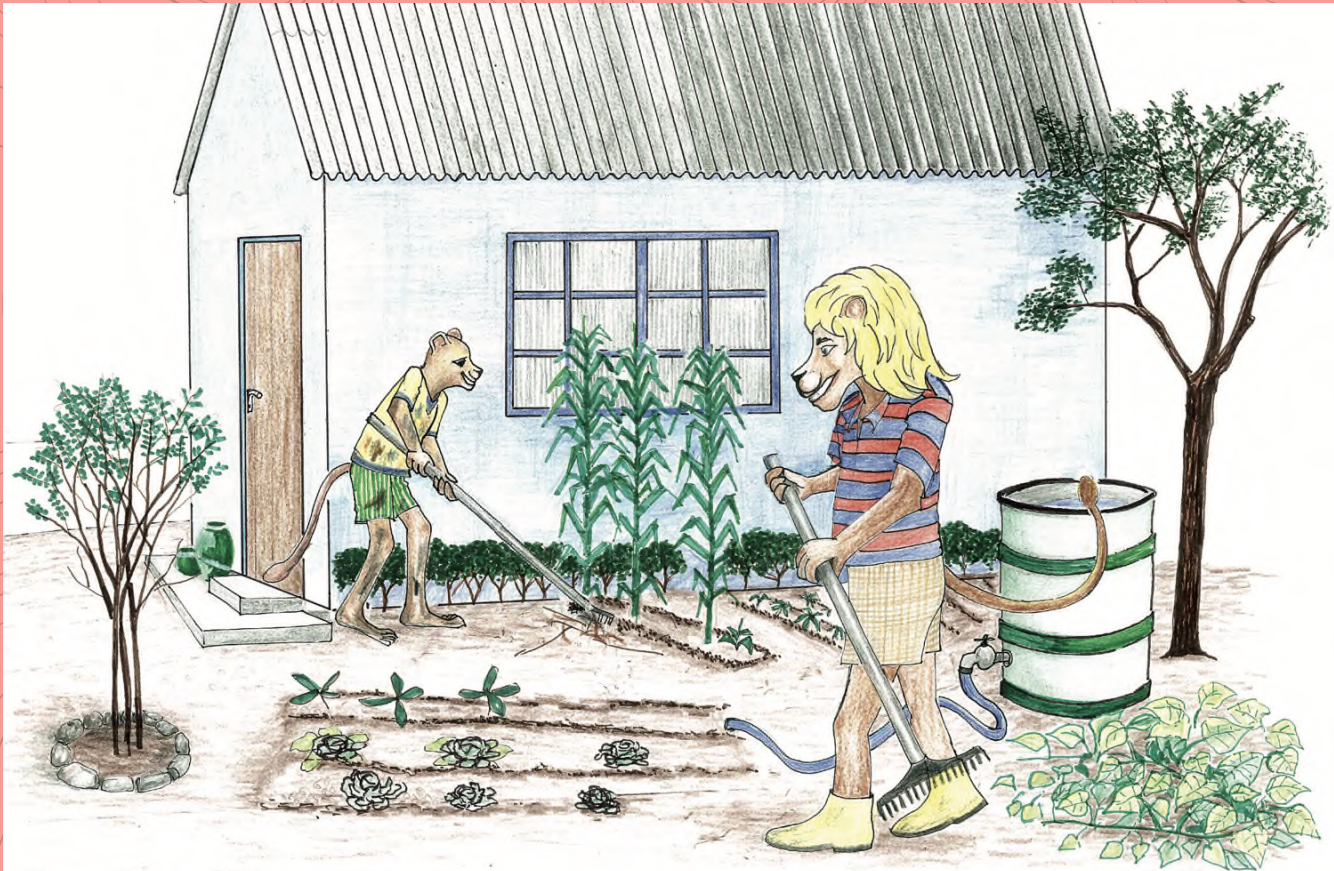

Loki goes to sleep and dreams that he takes a bath. Suddenly, the water transforms into mosquitos that start biting him all over!

Loki goes to school in the morning. Today the children paint in the arts class. It is fun, but messy! Loki comes home full of paint. Mother Lily wants Loki to bath and to wash his clothes, but Loki says: “Teacher said we should keep our clothes like they are, this is art”.

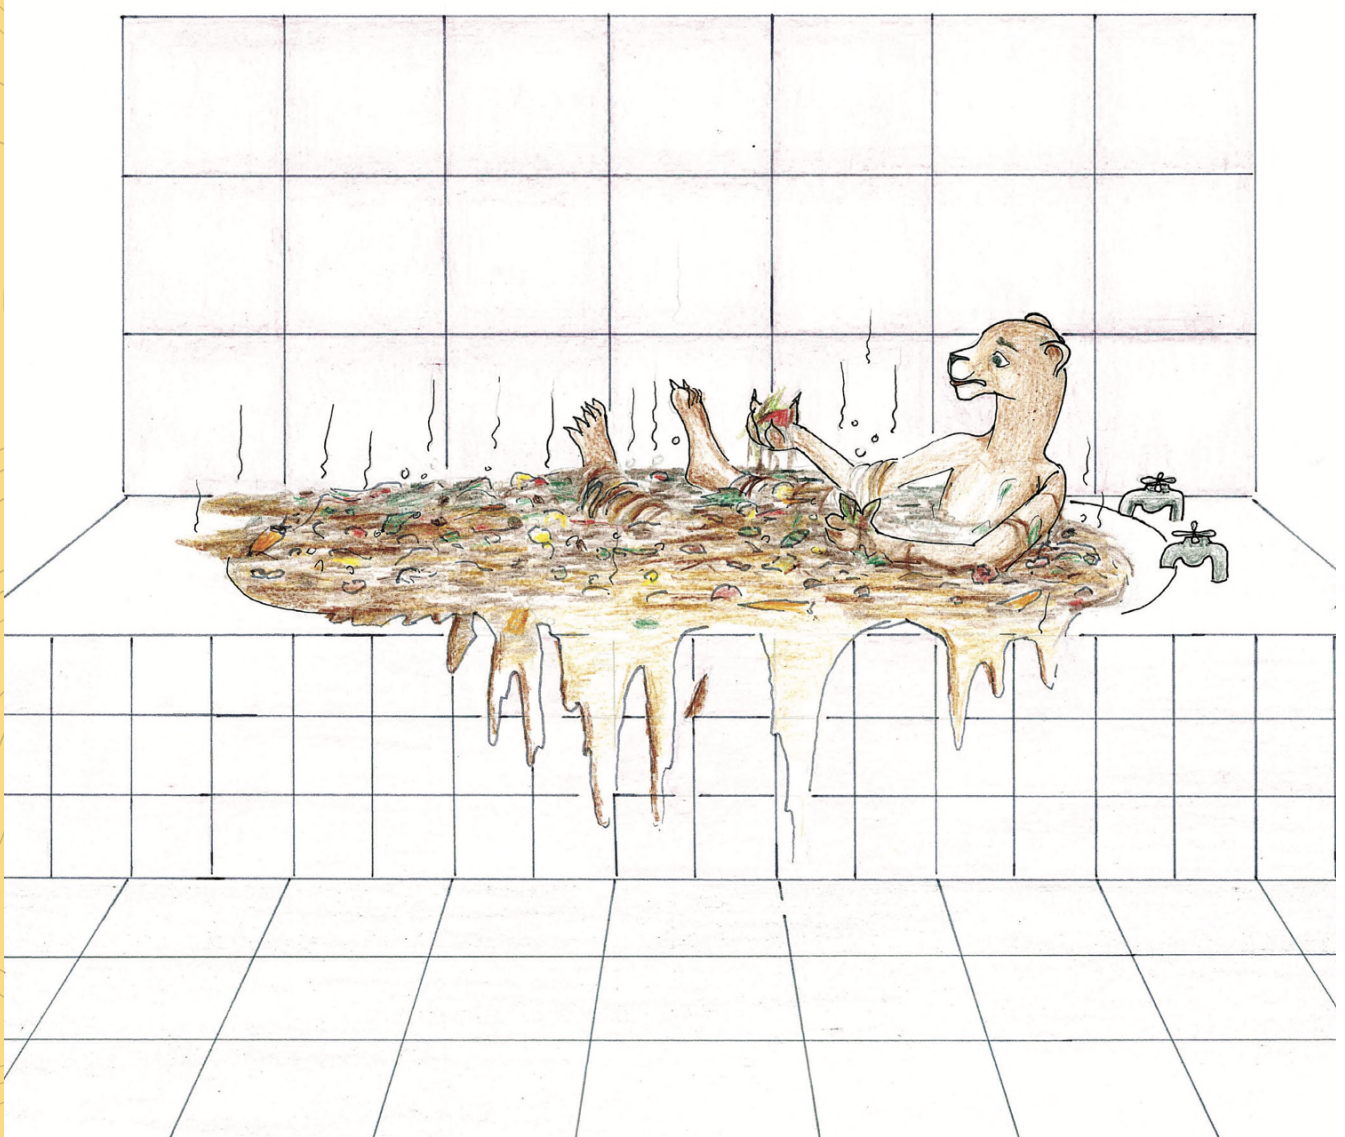

Loki goes to sleep and dreams that he is standing under a waterfall. The sound of the rushing water is so loud, and the water is running into his ears. He cannot hear anything and feels alone and scared.

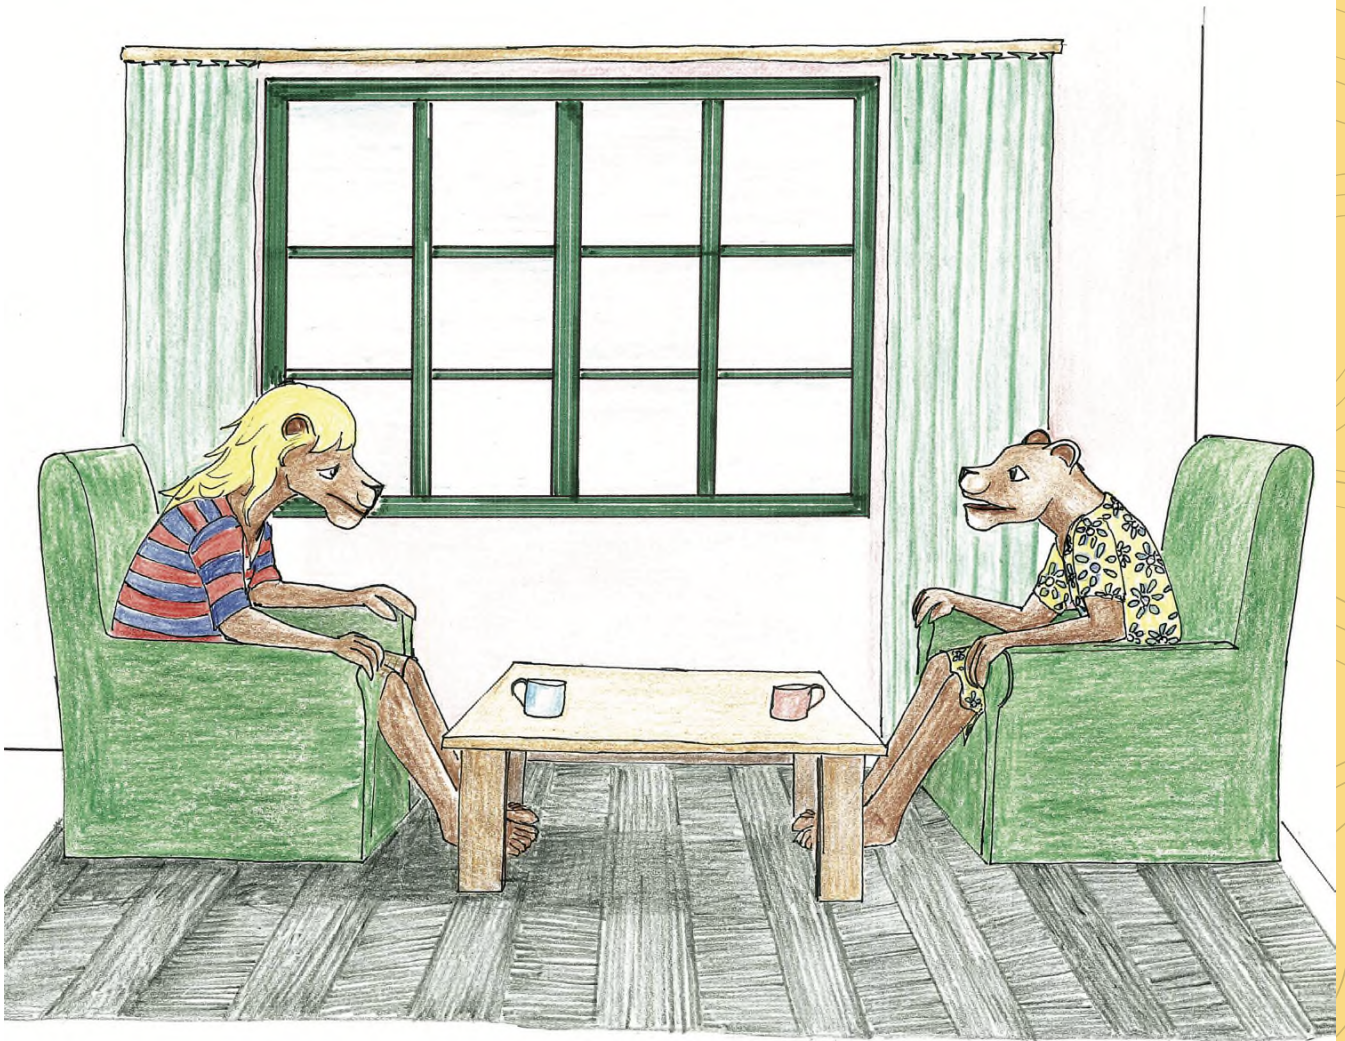

Loki helps his father Lionel in the garden. He plants tomato seeds and waters the plants. When mother Lily sees him full of dirt, she says: "Loki, what did you do? Why are you so dirty?" Loki explains: "Daddy and I planted Tomatoes". Mother Lily says: "Wow, well done! Now it is time to take a bath." Loki says: "Mom, I will take a bath later, now I am very hungry from working in the garden with Dad. Can we eat first?" Mother Lily agrees and they eat. After eating Loki quickly sneaks into his room, quickly gets into his bed and goes to sleep.

Loki dreams that he takes a bath, and the water transforms into hot soup!

Mother Lily asks Father Lionel: "Why does Loki not want to bath?" "I don't know," Father Lionel says. "I have an idea!"

He suddenly remembers a little toy duck that he used to bath with when he was a child. Father Lionel goes to look for his duck in some boxes.

Mother Lily and Father Lionel start to prepare a welcoming bath for Loki. They fill the washing basin with lukewarm water, add nice smelling soap and the little plastic duck. They even bought Loki swimming goggles.

When Loki saw the bathtub and the little duck, and felt the nice warm water, his fears and bad dreams finally went away.

He got into the bath and played with the little duck for a long time. Loki was very happy in his bathtub.

Mother Lily and Father Lionel sang a song together with Loki while he enjoyed his bath.

When he got out of the bath, Loki was so happy that he was clean. And he told mother Lily “I will take a bath every day, so I can be clean!”

Publication is supported by:

ISBN: 978-99945-58-40-7

9 789994 558407